August 2007

Welcome to the Windlore!

16th century woodcut titled 'Man takes a Leek'. Ok, that's not the exact title . . . but it SHOULD be.

Greetings and welcome to the August 2007 issue of the Windlore, the newsletter for the Barony of Windmasters' Hill. This newsletter is distributed primarily in an electronic format and is accessible from the website www.windmastershill.org. If you desire to be sent a hard copy of the windlore via mail, please submit a written request to the Barony by coming to a monthly Baronial Meeting or by contacting the Baronial Chronicler:

Letter from Their Excellencies

Greetings Everyone,

Some members of our populace have already left for the war in the north and it may be that by the time you read this we will be on our way as well. We are thrilled that so many of you have decided to camp with the Barony this year and it warms our hearts to see our populace coming together as a family.

Assessments was excellent and our forces did a wonderful job. We would like to thank everyone who traveled with us to aid in the evaluation and training of the army before Pennsic. Also, congratulations to all our newly authorized fighters. Well done!

Her Excellency would like to thank Lyneya, Maddelena, Trephina, Philippa, Magy, Nikulai, and Lucas for all their help with the Pennsic Baronial Fighter's Favors and she would especially like to thank Benefse for her help with the Baronial Fighter's Favors and all her work on the Baronial Pennsic Tokens. Y'all are awesome and I couldn't have done any of it with out you!

Once we return from Pennsic we look forward to a fast paced fall filled with many fine events. We are especially looking forward to Celtic Cattle Raids and hope that many of you will be able to join us for this fine event.

We still have not received any bids for Ymir, which greatly concerns us as we are getting closer and closer to the time that we need to be able to make a decision about the event. Please, if you are considering putting in a bid come and talk to us and Chow.

In Service,
Gaston and Rosalind

OFFICER'S Letters

Chronicler's Quill

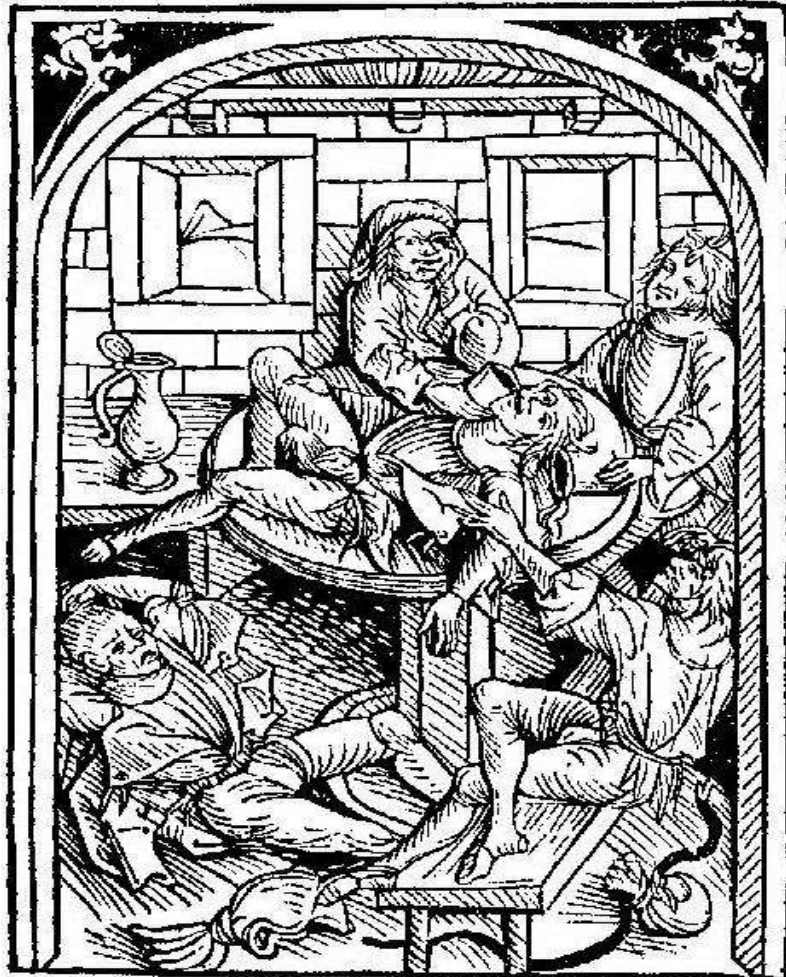

Greetings to the Great and Glorious Populace of Windmasters' Hill-

Thanks to Lady Rebecca the Contrary for submitting an article about document sizes which should surely interest those in the scribal arts, not to mention those of us crazy scadians who just like reading about this stuff!

I failed to properly publish the date of the July Baronial Meeting in last month's Windlore. For those who were inconvenienced by my error, I do humbly apologize.

There will be no Baronial meeting in August due to Pennsic. It is my sincere hope that everyone who makes it to pennsic with a camera will share pictures with me so I can share them with the populace via the September Windlore!

In service,
Dunstan leHeryngmongere

The list includes large amounts of most common art & craft supplies as well as many other useful items. Make your event budget go further, check the list before buying supplies! Requests for supplies must be submitted at least 2 weeks in advance of the event. Due to the amount of supplies you must be specific in your request. If you have a supply wish list, let me know and I will post a request to the list. On the wish list currently are empty metal coffee cans and glass baby food jars.

There is no meeting schedule for August due to Pennsic travel. The first floating meeting will be hosted by Buckston on the third Tuesday in September (September 18, 2007). Canton Reports:

Philippa reported that Buckston has had a number of new officers step up including MOL, Chatelaine, Herald & A&S Officers. The meetings and fighter practices have been well attended lately with 20-40 people attending each week.

Kappellenberg: Girard noted that Lukas is the new Chatelaine.

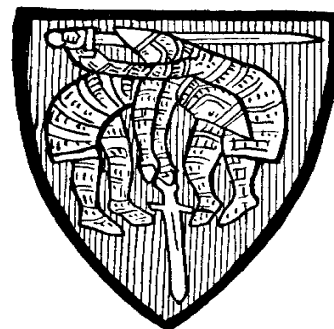

Nimenefeld: Elspeth reported that Wednesday fighter practices have been suspended temporarily due to lack of participation.

Elvegast: Adrianna noted that there will be no Sunday fighter practice during Pennsic war weekends. Alaric said he would Marshal the last Sunday in July.

Baronial A&S: Jeanette spoke of the Barony hosting a couple of A&S Day workshops at Philippa's work over the next couple of months. She wants to have a special emphasis on assisting newcomers with persona, garb, heraldry and A&S questions so talk it up among your new people. She also spoke of a project she will contact the Baronial Web Minister about: creating a gallery of artisan's work and their pictures on the web site. She would like to post both pictures and

Large Legal Documents

By Lady Rebecca the Contrary

Introduction:

A common theory in the scribal community is that larger legal documents did not exist for the time period we study. This comment always had me wondering how large legal documents really did get. We like to compare our SCA awards to legal documents because very often our awards do change the rank of our persona. Several of our awards carry grants, which existed in period. In fact this is such a common theory that many are certain the scribes of our period never worked on large documents and never worked on anything larger than 5X7.

I shared the same feeling until I became more curious about the subject. After some investigation through various lists of legal documents I noted an interesting trend. There were miniature-sized documents and the most common size for a legal document might be a 5X7 or 8X10. However there were also very large legal documents and the larger-sized documents in period were not as uncommon as we thought.

The Search:

The most comprehensive web site I could find which lists a large amount of legal documents and their details is from Harvard Law School special collections section.¹ They have the text and properties of a large series of legal documents at their web site.

There are other web sites out there but I have not searched them carefully yet.

I focused on the deeds section because I could find the most detail here however there are other sections that are equally interesting. I compiled a brief list from this web site bringing over as much pertinent information about the documents as I could.

Results of Search to Date:

The most interesting point is that while 5X7 or 8X10 may be the most common size, they certainly did have larger legal documents. Some of the documents were huge. They were mostly out of parchment. The web site I focused on listed the measurements in cm. It helps to remember that 2.5 cm = 1 inch when looking at this list. I have yet to collect document size information on every item listed on the web site however I did collect the information on a pretty large section. It is pretty easy to see by the following collection of information in Appendix 1 that regardless of the year or time period a variety of document sizes were used.

From this collection it appears that the average size is 13.5 cm by 25.34 cm (5.4 X 10.14 in). However this is an incomplete collection and the main focus of this research was to find the larger legal document. I suspect when this is all collected together that we'll find a majority were either 5X7 or 8X10. Those smaller than 5X7 did exist however I'm uncertain of their frequency.

I also note that currently year has no correlation to size. There is no way to say "they only had larger sizes in later years or earlier years" etc. There were larger sizes at least from 1200 on in a variety of sizes.

As a side tangent it is interesting to note that a huge majority of these documents were parchment although there is one instance of paper used in this list.

Editors note (from Dunstan)-

Lady Rebecca's original paper includes 8 pages of appendix listing various sizes of legal documents. I have included only the first two pages in the interest of keeping the Windlore a reasonable size. These first two pages list some of the very largest documents, with the first entry over 36 inches high and over 12 inches wide!

If you are interested in receiving the paper in it's entirety, please contact me at rangernealson@aol.com.
